OVER THE LAST WEEK
AS OF NOVEMBER 15, 2024

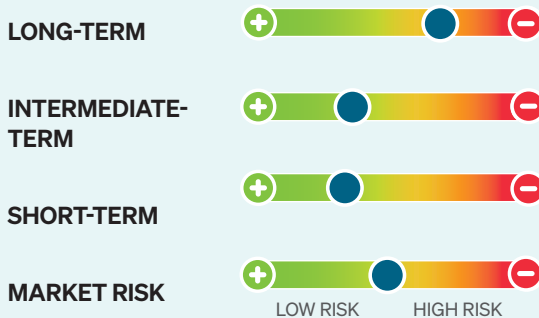

QUICK TAKE

- The long-term model is negative as elevated valuations continue to be a headwind, particularly in a higher interest rate environment.

+ The intermediate-term model is positive as tech heavy Nasdaq stock sentiment has turned bearish over the previous two weeks, which is a positive from a contrarian perspective.

+ Expected equity market volatility measured by the VIX remains below average, while expected bond market volatility measured by the MOVE index is slightly above average. Overall low Market RISK is a positive driver for our lack of defensive posture.

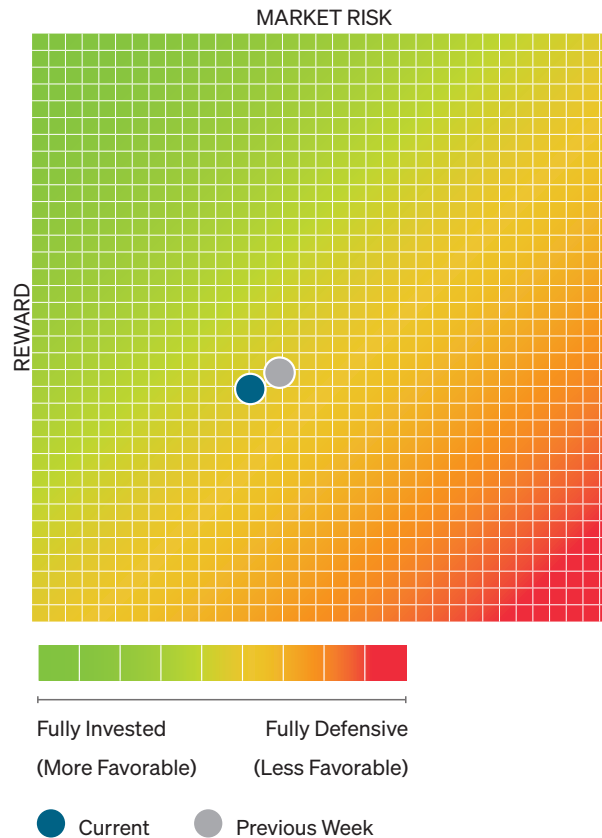

OVERALL MODEL OUTPUT

A Closer Look at Our Tactical Positioning Targets

Each day, Meeder analyzes and ranks over 70 different factors from our short, intermediate, and long-term models. The dynamic statistical model incorporates factors covering macroeconomic, fundamental, trends and technical analysis to estimate the potential reward and marketplace risk of the equity markets. The Meeder Spectrum, Muirfield, Balanced, Moderate Allocation, and Conservative Allocation funds utilize this strategy for the Defensive Equity portion of their portfolios. The Defensive Equity Strategy guides the allocation of each fund's equity sleeve and the actual proportion of equity investments in any fund will vary depending on the investment objectives of the fund.

UNDERSTANDING THE DEFENSIVE EQUITY SNAPSHOT

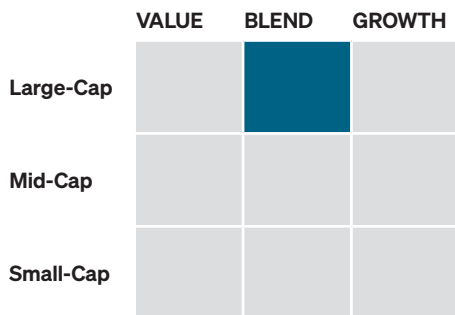

The vertical axis of the grid combines the scores of our long-, intermediate-, and short-term models to arrive at the reward value for the stock market. The horizontal axis represents the model's internal measure of stock market risk. The reward value is divided by marketplace risk to arrive at our recommended percentage of Net Equity Exposure.

- » We remain overweight high yield relative to investment grade as the Fed's easing cycle has begun and the economy continues to grow.
- » We are underweight emerging market debt as higher interest rates have led the dollar to strengthen.
- » As the curve continues to steepen and rates continue to rise, we continue to maintain a short duration stance of 4.3 years
